

DAVO Arbeitskreis “Palästina Studien”

This Working Group was established to connect all those who take a professional interest in the various aspects of the Palestine/Israel conflict. Postcolonial and trans-cultural studies, having Palestine in its focus, find a wide and motivating field of research. Located in-between Africa, Asia, the Mediterranean and Europe, Palestine was at the crossroads of many cultures and religions, before colonial mapdrawing paved the way for the Zionist settlement and the later state building. Pre-colonial and pre-Zionist modes of living in Palestine might bear utopian visions of future ways of a living together, which will overcome current boundaries.

Scholars and practitioners are invited to give their inputs from historical in views to future scenarios, including technical issues like water, land-use, planning as well as cultural, religious and political issues.

This working group was set up as a vehicle to promote more effective interlinks and networking and to find colleagues who share similar interests for joint projects, for interviews, for questions of advice and consultancy, for the exploration of joint research agendas, or to find resource persons. You are welcome to create your professional profile and get in touch with other users of this platform.
